Wren Courtyard

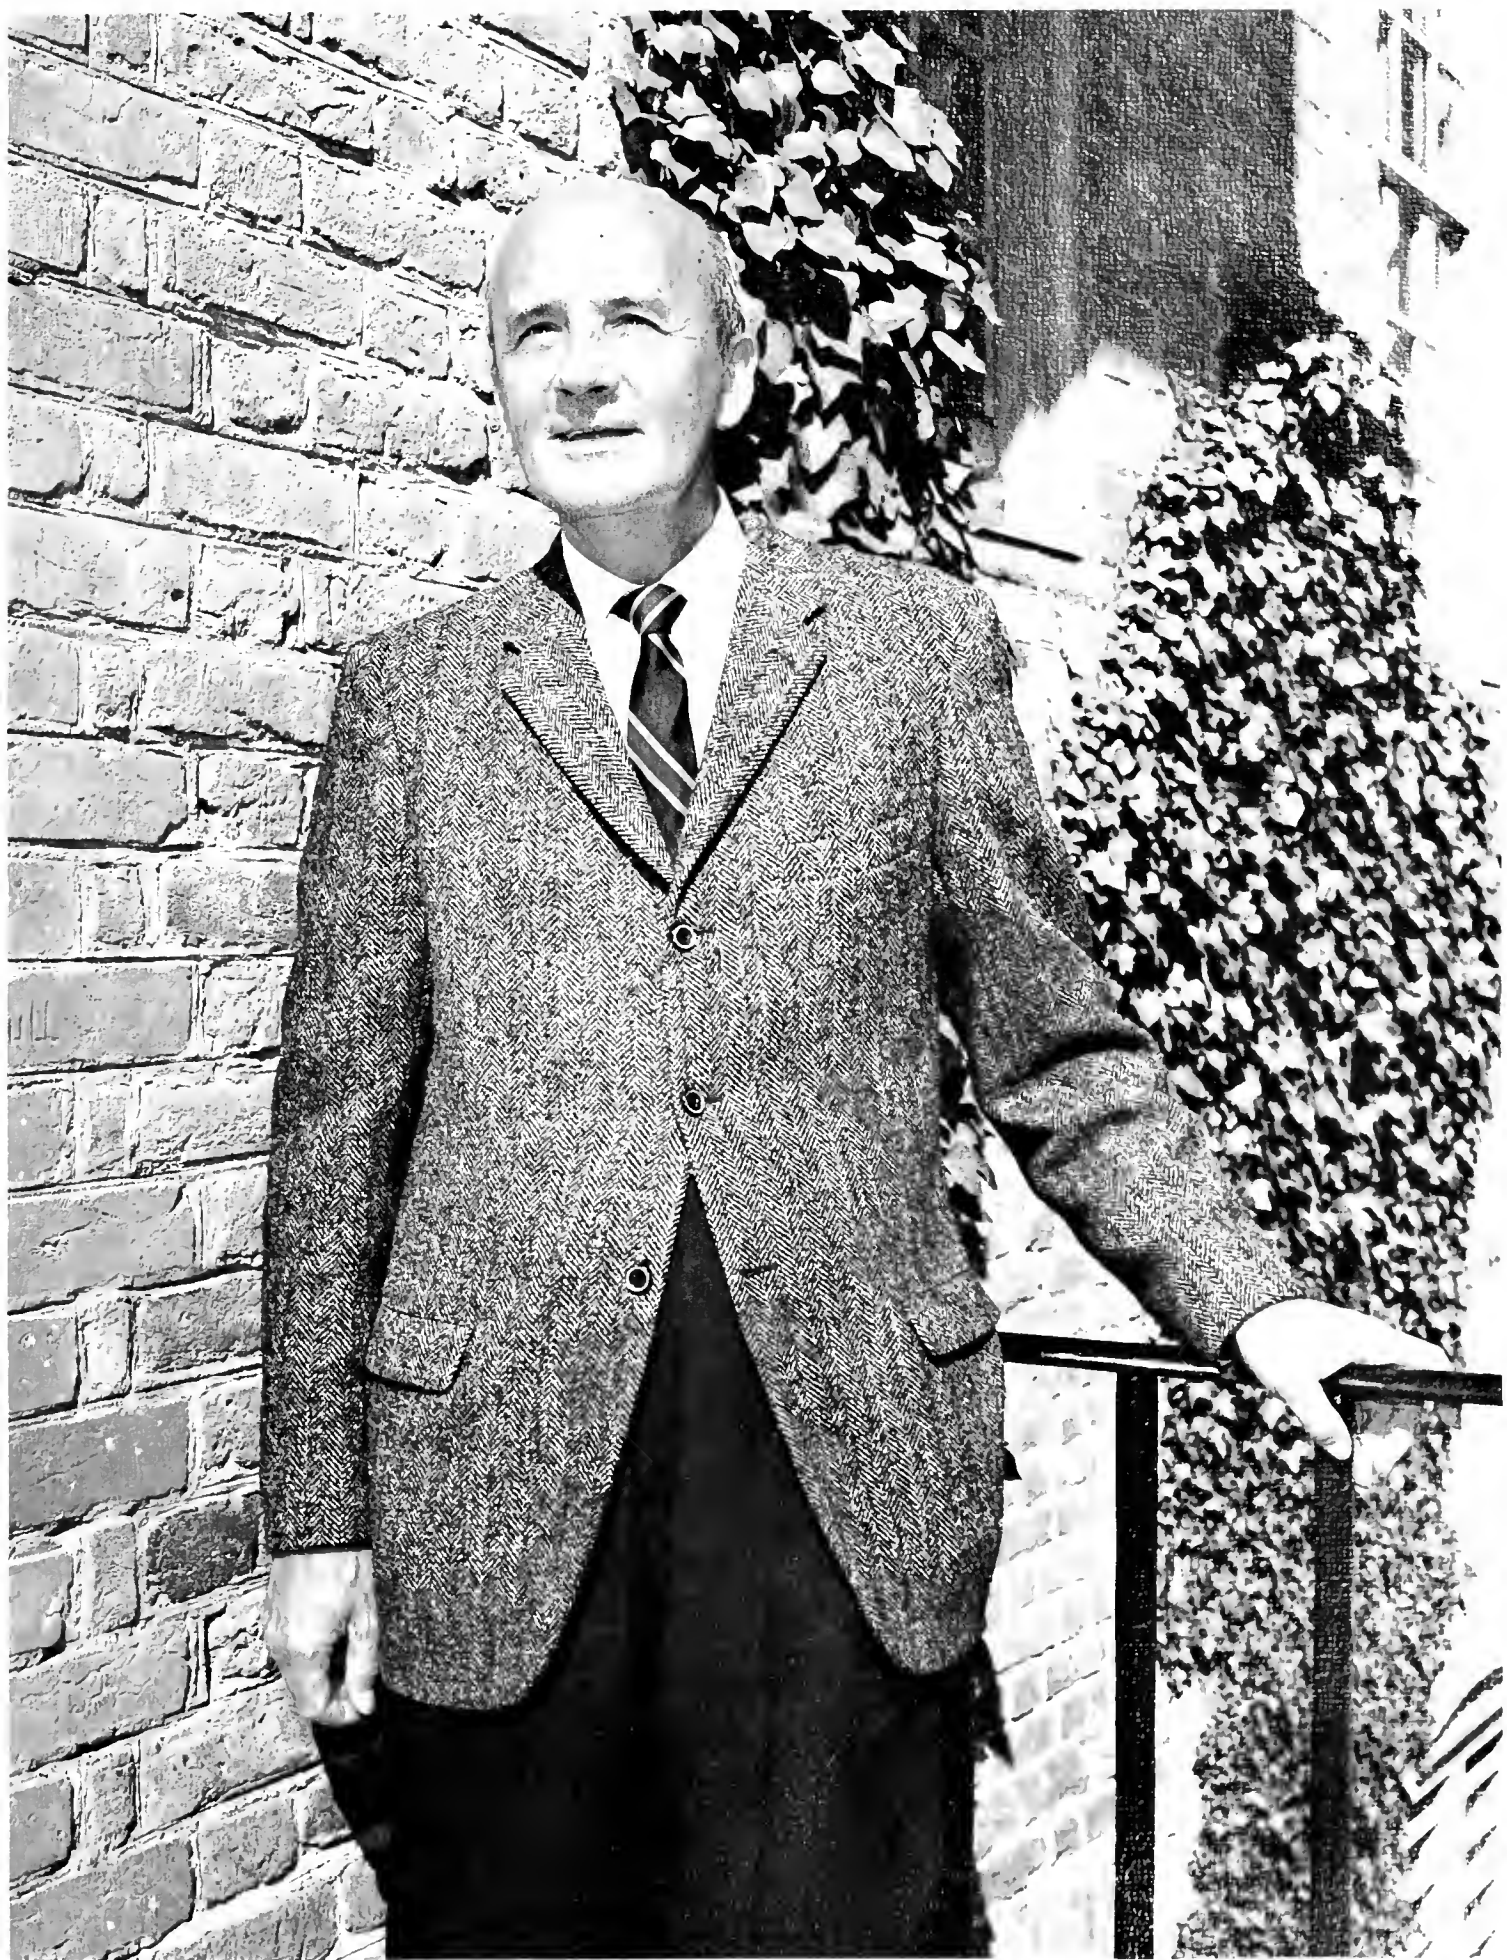

Tradition, begun 275 years ago, is continued at William and Mary with new, modern looks added to the older Colonial ones. The old stands patiently and proudly by as the new is slowly finished and occupied.

William and Mary

1968 marks the completion of twenty years of teaching at William and Mary for Dr. Cecil M. McCulley, Professor of English. His outstanding qualities as a teacher coupled with his numerous efforts on the students' behalf as a member of the Student Publications Committee and the Student Activities Fee Committee, as well as other groups, has won him the esteem of students and faculty alike. We are proud to dedicate the 1968 COLONIAL ECHO to Dr. McCulley.

Fraternity housing—July 1967

A week's postponement in the opening of the Session was insufficient to compensate for the numerous delays preventing the scheduled completion of the Fraternity Complex. Amid continuing construction and preparation for habitation four fraternities, evacuating dorm basements and nearby motels, moved in to be followed later by the other fraternities.

The facilities of the New Campus were expanded with the opening of The Commons, the Fine Arts Wing, and the new tennis courts behind the women's gym. Work continued on the Life-Sciences Building and construction was begun on the Mathematics-General Classroom Building.

Anniversary Celebration

The full expanse of Blow Gymnasium was used for the 1968 observance of Charter Day

Charter Day exercises commemorating the 275th Anniversary of the granting of the Royal Charter by their Majesties King William III and Queen Mary II of England on February 8, 1693, were held in Blow Gymnasium. The occasion was marked by distinguished addresses, by the conferring of honorary degrees, and by the announcement of the recipient of the Thomas Jefferson Award.

Faculty, students, delegates from various colleges, and friends filled the Gym to capacity

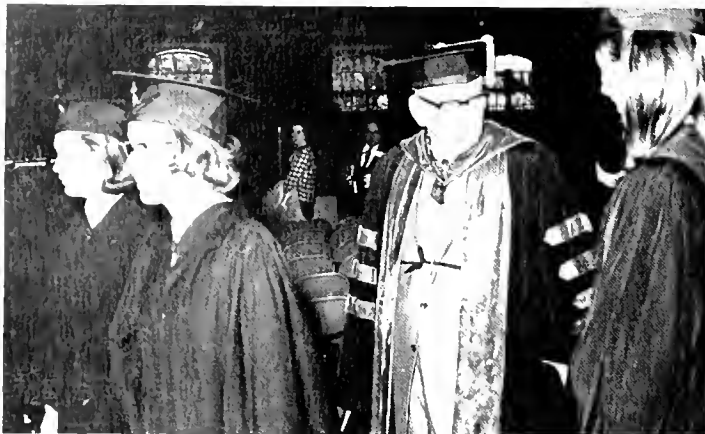

Students overlook the scene from the upstairs balcony

Faculty members take their place as the Anniversary Convocation begins

Dr. William G. Guy and the Color Guard of the Queen's Guard lead the procession.

Dr. J. T. Baldwin helps the Seniors find their places in the Gym.

Delegates from many of the nation's colleges attended the Convocation.

The Choir sings the William and Mary Hymn both at the start and conclusion of the exercises.

Dr. Alexander Kallos directs the Faculty to their assigned positions.

The Anniversary Convocation began with Dr. Harold L. Fowler reading from the Royal Charter

Dr. Joseph Curtis read the Royal Proclamation

Anthony H. Packe, Master of the Ancient Company of Drapers, brought greetings from the Drapers' Company of London plus a sterling silver candelabra

Members of the Queen's Guard help display the sterling silver candelabra presented to the College on its Anniversary by the Drapers' Company

Sir Patrick Henry Dean, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador to the United States, addressed the Assembly

The Assembly adjourned at 5:30 p.m.

Alvin Duke Chandler, Chancellor of the College announced the appointment of Dr. Thomas Atkeson and Dr. J. Ward Jones as Chancellor Professors of the College.

Dixon L. Foster, President of the Society of the Alumni, displays the Alumni gift of a chain of office that bears the name of every Senior Class President since the position was created.

On behalf of the Senior Class, Bruce Oliver expresses his thanks for this gift.

Bruce Oliver, Vice-President of the Senior Class, receives this on behalf of Bob Blair, President.

The Right Reverend and the Right Honorable Robert Wright Stopford, Bishop of London, also addressed the Convocation.

Vernon L. Nunn, Treasurer-Auditor of the College, receives the Thomas Jefferson Award

W. Brooks George, Rector of the Board of Visitors, awards Hugh Williams Farmar, Clerk to the Drapers Company an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Sir Patrick Henry Dean, Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador to the United States, is awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree

Lord Bishop Robert Wright Stoughton of London receives an honorary doctor of divinity degree

New professors, research grants and honors, improvised facilities, and expanding graduate programs characterized William and Mary's academic advances. Eighty-six new teachers met the school's largest enrollment; forty-one additional positions increased the faculty to three hundred sixty-one. Making speeches, attending conferences, and accepting awards were on the agendas of professors in each department. Biological research in population problems received national attention. Because of continuing delays in construction of the Life Sciences and Mathematics buildings, classrooms remained crowded; fraternity lodges served several departments. Masters programs in Government and Sociology and a Ph.D. in History began operation; and the Board of Visitors created the Schools of Business Administration and of Continuing Studies.

The William and Mary Choir performs for Parents' Day 1967.

The torchlit Wren Courtyard and activities on Merchants' Square gave students and their families a chance for relaxation.

Mulled cider was provided for the parents by the local merchants.

Live entertainment in Merchants' Square was featured for this year's Parents' Day.

The second annual Parents' Day in the spring of 1967 was even more elaborate and more events were planned for the parents than in previous year's and a continuing tradition seems to have been established. The success of this occasion caused the creation of the Parents' Fund which now totals over one thousand dollars.

Lunch in front of Phi Beta Kappa Hall gives parents and students a chance for informal talk.

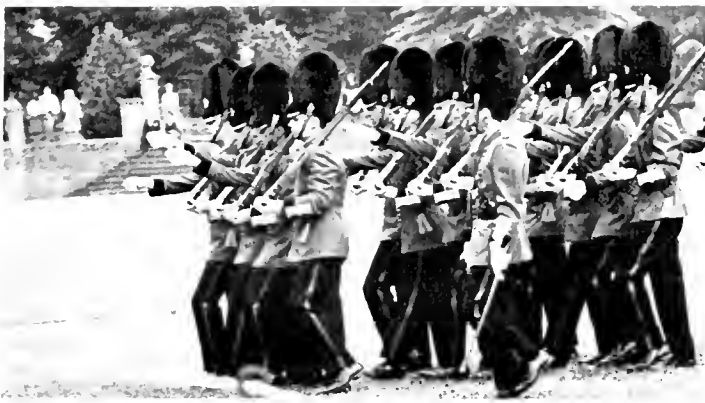

The punch bowl is always a popular place on a picnic.

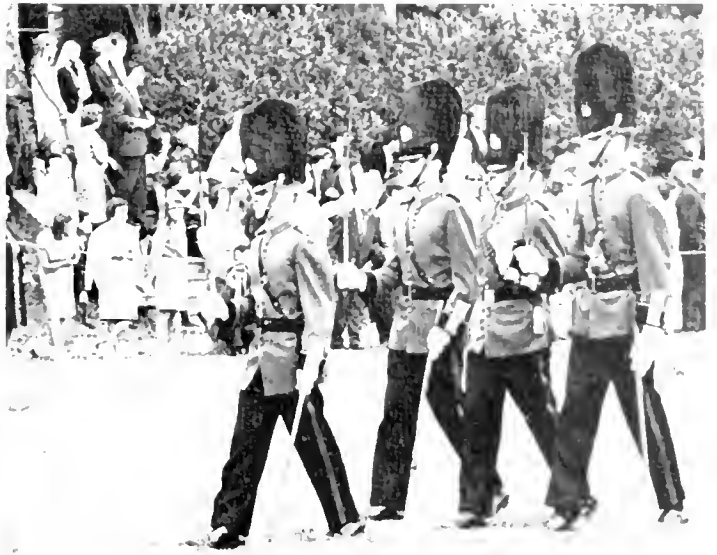

The Queen's Guard sounds a salute to the visiting parents.

An exhibition baseball game is also held for the visitors

The Athletic Department scheduled an exhibition football game for the parents to show Big Green's forecasted winning potential Historic Bruton Parish Church was as close to the College as President Lyndon B. Johnson got on his November visit to Williamsburg that aroused considerable controversy in national newspapers and magazines.

Mr. George Peppard, actor

A special tradition at William and Mary is the annual Miss William and Mary Contest sponsored by the Colonial Echo. From the thirty girls nominated by all the women's dormitories, sororities, and fraternities, the student body elected five finalists. A formal portrait of each was then sent to Mr. George Peppard, who selected our winner.

Dear Miss Yeager:

In all of the contests I have been asked to judge, the finalists of William and Mary's are without exaggeration the prettiest I have seen.

As a man who is dedicated to beauty in all of the Arts, and especially to the beauty found only in a lovely woman's eyes, my decision was almost impossible. In order to choose one I had to not choose four.

So, Miss Yeager, I will make a deal with you: I select Kathy Burge as the winner (her aura of sweetness got me) and you can keep her in Williamsburg for the festivities. But you Miss Yeager, must carefully package both Judies Ann and Pam, and send them directly to me by parcel post.

Sincerely,
George Peppard

Miss Kathy Burge is a senior psychology major from Hopewell, Virginia. She is President of Delta Delta Delta social sorority, a member of Psi Chi—a national psychology honorary, the Psychology Club and the Student Association. She has been elected Greek Weekend Queen, Sweetheart of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, and was a Senior Princess on the Homecoming Court. Her selection by our guest celebrity, George Peppard, as Miss William and Mary 1968 is a fitting climax for all these honors.

COLLEGE STRUCTURE

The Board of Visitors

Since 1693, the governing power of the college has been invested in the Board of Visitors. It continues to fulfill its responsibilities by maintaining College property, appointing Administration and Faculty members, setting tuition rates and admission requirements, approving the budget, and establishing other policies for the College. The Board consists of seventeen members appointed by the Governor to serve four years without compensation. This year's Board has aided Dean W. Melville Jones in planning the 275th Anniversary celebration at the College.

Rector W. Brooks George addresses the graduating class of 1967.

Frank W. Cox, H. Hudnall Ware, Jr., J.E. Zollinger, Blake T. Newton, Charles K. Hutchens, R. William Arthur, Russell B. Gill, William R. Savage, Jr.

President and Mrs. Paschall admire the boxwood wreath on their front door.

Davis Y. Paschall, President of the College

The President

Dr. Davis Y. Paschall, in his eighth year as President of the College is also an alumnus of William and Mary. He has served the educational interests of the State in various official capacities, and has been distinguished by national awards. President Paschall continued to coordinate the development of William and Mary this year, facing such problems as increased enrollment, growing discontent about faculty salaries, demands by the students for less social and academic restrictions, and slowness of construction. As part of the 275th Anniversary celebration, he appeared on television for a half-hour interview on the College's past and present.

General Honors Program

The General Honors Program, begun in the fall of 1965, now includes forty-eight freshmen, forty-six sophomores, and fifteen active juniors. In addition, forty-five seniors pursued Departmental Honors in different fields of concentration.

General Honors Students carry a standard academic program except that two of their courses are of honors nature: one—a special departmental class, the other—a colloquium which deals with separate topics of contemporary concern. The Program aims to challenge academically talented students to meet high standards of scholarship and of involvement in learning, to experiment in course content and method with the idea of the possible application to the general non-honors program, and to produce a "spill-over" effect for the College as a whole. The Program is an integral, not a separate part of the College.

Students are selected for the Program either before entering college on the basis of high school records, test scores, aptitude for independent work and evidence of involvement or after entering on the basis of faculty recommendations, grades, and interest.

Dr. Carlyle Beyer, Director of the Honors Program, talks with two interested honors students.

Colloquia held in the relaxed atmosphere of the "Colloke" room stimulates student participation and interest.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government

Brad Davis—President

Student Association

The Student Association coordinates administration and student activities and needs. As an organization representing all students, it sponsored book fairs, the Homecoming Dance, Mid-Winters, and Spring Finals. Meeting bimonthly on Tuesday evenings, the SA encouraged student discussion and comments on campus issues like Open Housing and mandatory class attendance. In addition, the Faculty Evaluation, Campus Improvements and Publication Committees took an active part in the SA program.

President's Aides are introduced at Opening Convocation

President's Aides

The President's Aides serve the administration in a social capacity as representatives of the students. The eleven-member committee also acts in an advisory role when called upon by the President. Composed of presidents of eight major campus organizations (President of the Student Association, Chairman of the Men's Honor Council, Chairman of the Women's Honor Council, President of WDA, President of the Senior Class, President of the Junior Class, President of Mortar Board, and President of Omicron Delta Kappa) and three members at large, the Aides are included in the official party at convocations and commencement.

FRONT ROW: Susan Baskerville, Lucy Kinnard, Suzanne Pearce, Bill Seibert. SECOND ROW: John Keiter, Ric

McKittrick, Dan Darragh, Bob Trice, Dave Rutledge, Bob Blair.

Men's Honor Council

The Men's Honor Council supervises the operation of the honor code. It encourages an understanding and appreciation of the system, reviews the policies and procedures of the code periodically, and investigates alleged honor violations and tries offenders. A major function of the group is to introduce the code to new students.

SECOND ROW: Bob Brown, Al Murray –

secretary, Donn Wonnell, Keith Dayton, Gary Newman.

Honor Council Chairmen Suzanne Pearce and Dave Rutledge make plans for introducing new students to the honor system

Council members explain the policies and procedures of an effective honor system before freshmen sign their pledge cards.

Women's Honor Council

The Men's and Women's Honor Councils work to revise and clarify the Honor System Handbook.

Originating from the "gentleman's code of behavior" of the colonial college, the Honor System emphasizes each student's responsibility. The Women's Honor Council perpetuates the system by orienting new students to its objectives through discussion groups, a test, and a pledge card signing ceremony. Members, elected annually, investigate breaches of the honor code and count election ballots.

Cheryl Anderson, Lynn Andrew, Susan Small – secretary, Lucy Kinnaird – vice-chairman, Suzanne Pearce – chairman, Kathy Kearney, Carol Bender, Lynda Lotz.

Men's Dormitory Council

The Men's Dormitory Council, advised by Dean McGurk, plans and coordinates inter-dormitory activities. Composed of representatives from each dorm and fraternity, the group discusses disciplinary questions and aids residence counselors in their supervisory responsibilities.

Women's Dormitory Association

The Women's Dormitory Association acts as a liaison between the women students in residence and the administration in the application of social rules. Helping to select house presidents, counselors, and sponsors, aiding dorms to acquire needed equipment, and offering scholarships are all functions of the WDA. The Rule Change Committee, composed of elected student representatives, suggests feasible rule alterations.

Kathy Green expresses her views at a house presidents' meeting.

WDA President, Susan Baskerville, discusses the bermuda shorts policy with the Rules Change Committee

Group Leaders

The Orientation Group Leaders, selected for scholarship, character, and leadership, assisted the freshman men during their first week by informing them of the history, regulations, and social practices of the College. Returning early, these men helped to formulate plans for Orientation Week.

The job of the sixty-two Orientation Sponsors was to familiarize freshman women with life at William and Mary. Beginning with welcoming letters in August, these upperclass women attempted to acquaint their group members with the campus traditions, dorm life, Honor System, and social life. Although their job was to assist the Class of 1971 with Orientation Week, these Sponsors continued to counsel their girls throughout the year.

Kappa Delta Pi

Phi Alpha Delta

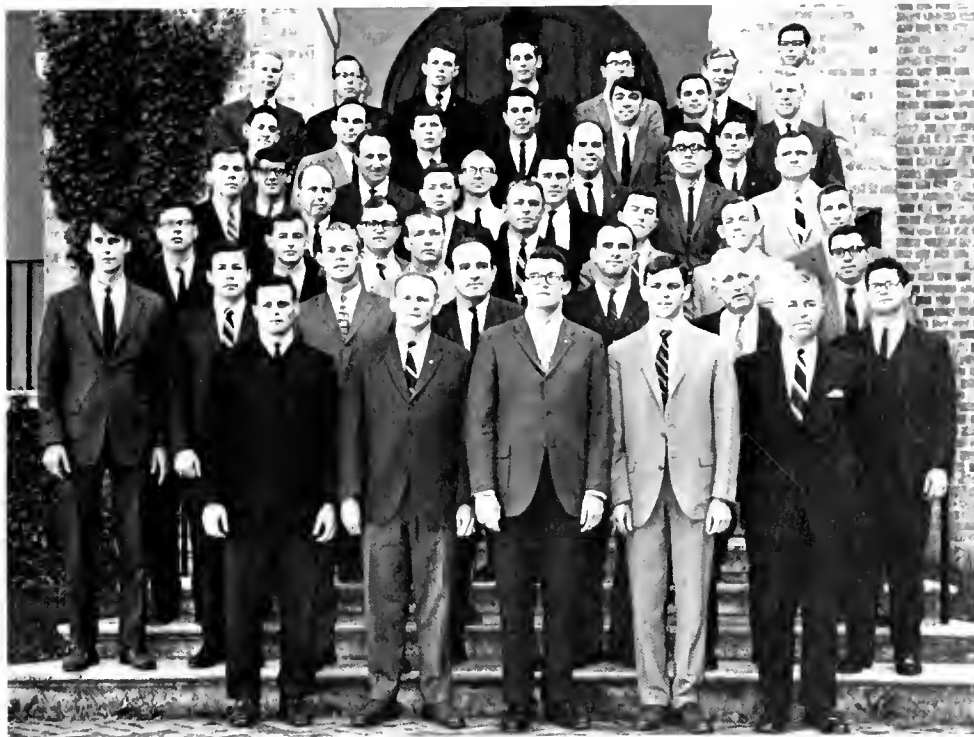

Phi Alpha Delta, a professional and fraternal organization, serves all three phases of legal endeavor—student, law school, and Bar. During the year the members attended a statewide seminar on the creation and function of a corporation. PAD also conducted a professional speakers program, a used book sale, and tours of the State and Federal penal systems.

The Alpha Xi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was established at the College in 1927. Its purpose as a national honor fraternity is to recognize outstanding contributions to education and encourage interest in this field as a profession. One of the year's highlights was the initiation ceremony followed by a banquet and distinguished speaker.

Review

The William and Mary Review, the college literary magazine, took on a new look this year as emphasis was switched from strictly written contributions to visual arts, especially in connection with the anniversary of the College. The Review hopes to engender and develop student interest and contributions to the allied fields of literary and visual arts. Through its publication, The Review honors those students who have been outstanding in these creative fields and through its process of art show presentations and constructive literary criticisms, The Review aids the individual in attaining greater skill in his own area of artistic endeavor.

The student radio station, WCWM-FM, provides music and news for the College campus. Its programs included folk, jazz, classical, big band sounds and some rock and roll. The station also offered a lecture program entitled "Extremism '67" which featured cabinet and government department heads speaking on racism and nuclear war. An important addition to the station was a "hook-up" with WYCS, the high school educational network in Yorktown. This connection added to the broadcasting strength so that WCWM could be heard from Norfolk to Richmond. Many specials on the anniversary of the College were also broadcast.

A new addition to the campus political scene is the Young Americans for Freedom group. Founded in February 1967, the organization attempts to promote conservative principles. The YAF distinguishes itself as being the only political group based on principles rather than on party labels. Its activities varied from debates and discussions to speakers and films.

Young Republicans

The Young Republicans offered an exciting agenda of speakers to its membership. Visitors included Jack Corber, Virginia Republican State Chairman, Bob Anderson, candidate for the House of Delegates, and Richard Coakley, candidate for County Supervisor. To support local Republican candidates, the group held an old-fashioned torchlight parade through the town. Thirty delegates were also sent to the March State Convention at Hampton.

GREEKS

Spirits remain high despite the rain

Well, in the spring we go on beach weekend.

Rush brings choices for both sides

What did you say your name was?

It must be four o'clock by now

Sure, we have parties like this every weekend

The beginning of brotherhood, pledgeship

Gee, we're glad

Rush, the life blood of Greek life, begins with an uncertain smile, an almost too hearty handshake; matures through the nightly parties; and emerges with the final commitment and the joy of a new involvement.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi's focused their attention this year on special altruistic projects including adopting a company of servicemen in Viet Nam and sponsoring a bridge party to raise money for the education of a young Korean orphan. Scholarship also played a vital role in the program as Alpha Chi produced two Phi Beta Kappas and one of the exchange students to St. Andrews.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The Tri-Delta's really started the year off right by producing a first place float, the Homecoming Queen, Sandy Boccock, and three of the princesses all in one weekend. To honor the Housemothers, the sorority held their annual Bridge Party. In addition to collecting money with Phi Tau for the United Givers' Fund, the Tri-Delta's entertained with the Sigma Pi's at a Christmas party for underprivileged children.

Come to the "Delta Carnival!"

Gamma Phi Beta has many facets which include pledge dances, teas, scholarship dinners, slumber parties, and fraternity parties. They supported an orphan, sponsored a bloodmobile with Kappa Sigma, and held an Easter Party with Sigma Chi for underprivileged children. Gamma Phi's were Mortarboards, Phi Betes, dorm counselors, fraternity sweethearts, and campus leaders in many fields.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The annual Housemothers' Brunch was a good beginning to fall for the Theta's, and their spaghetti dinners this year had a new purpose: supporting Tuyet, a Vietnamese Child. Also an innovation was the presentation of informal pledges at the fall formal. Exchange dinners, Happy Hours, and Lambda Mu Mu provided fun-filled hours for Theta's throughout the year, while the pledge dance highlighted the spring.

KAPPA DELTA

For the second consecutive year, the Kappa Delta's received the Achievement Award at their National Convention. They were also awarded the "Comeback Award" for their Homecoming float which burned before the parade. KD had a very active year holding a faculty reception, a party for freshmen men, a Housemothers' Tea, two formal dances, and a Senior Banquet, as well as participating in national and local philanthropies.

PHI MU

LES SOEURS FIDELES

This spring the Phi Mu's have been busy entertaining the new fraternity pledges at an open house and delighting the faculty children with an Easter Egg Hunt. In March the sorority, the second oldest Greek-letter fraternity for women, celebrated its Founder's Day with a tea for all members and alumnae. Phi Mu was very proud to have a Phi Beta Kappa among their outstanding seniors.

Indians End 5-4-1 for Third Straight Winning Year

The 1967 William and Mary football Indians closed out an up-and-down year with a record identical to last year's 5-4-1 mark after a season of unexpected wins, disappointing losses, and a frustrating tie. In recording his third straight winning season and making his four-year mark 20-18-2, Head Coach Marv Levy led a team composed entirely of his recruits to a fourth-place finish in the Southern Conference.

The season began with a resounding win over Quantico, but the Tribe then dropped three straight—to East Carolina, Virginia Tech by wide margins, and to Vanderbilt by a slim two-point deficit. Then the Indians roared back with four straight wins—over VMI in the Tobacco Bowl, rugged Ohio, Navy for the first W&M win in that series in 25 years, and Citadel in a shutout. A tie with West Virginia and a season-ending loss to Richmond put a damper on the mid-season heroics.

Individually, the Indians outmanned all other Conference teams by placing five men on the starting lineups of the All-Southern Conference Team—sophomore split end Jim Cavanaugh, who set a single game SC record with 180 yards in pass receptions against VMI; offensive tackle Brad Cashman, who made the '66 All-SC as Guard for George Washington, then transferred to the Reservation and repeated; defensive end Bob Gadkowski, who was named for the third straight time; linebacker and Co-Captain Adin Brown, named for the second time; and safety Chip Young, among the nation's early leaders in punt returns and interceptions. Second team selections included quarterback Dan Daragh, defensive tackle Buck Buchanan, and safety Eddie Herring.

Three fourth-quarter touchdowns were the difference in this long awaited rematch of last year's opening season 7-7 tie with the Pirates, and for most of the game it appeared that the score would be the same. Playing on a soggy Cary Field during the onslaught of Hurricane Doria, the Indian defense could not contain two of ECC's running backs, sophomore Butch Colson and tailback Neal Hughes. The usually potent passing attack of the Indians failed throughout the game, gaining only 14 yards on two completions. In addition the Tribe lost three fumbles. An outstanding job was done by Joe Pilch, who gained 90 yards rushing.

Indian mistakes again played into the hands of the opposition, and again the fourth quarter proved devastating as the Indians dropped a 31-7 loss to state arch-rival Virginia Tech. The Indians saw three passes intercepted by the alert Tech defense, and also lost a pair of fumbles. Offensively the Tribe outgained the hosts, picking up 314 yards and 17 first downs, as compared to 285 yards and 15 first downs for the Gobblers. But the lost possessions proved fatal, as all three pass interceptions led to VPI scores. Jim Cavanaugh grabbed nine passes to take an early lead in national pass reception statistics.

Buck Buchanan's second period field goal that nicked the cross bar and bounced over was the difference as the Indians began a string of Homecoming upsets—with a 25-22 come-from-behind win over Ohio. Excelling on defense, Buchanan shared honors with Ted Zychowski, who caught six passes for 123 yards and a pair of TDs. Adin Brown led a defense that kept pressure on the Bobcats all day.

W&M	12
VANDERBILT	14

The Indians cut down their errors, but could not come up with the big play and dropped a close 14-12 decision to tough Vanderbilt of the Southeastern Conference. Dan Darragh began to indicate the brilliance coming up later in the season, as he scored on a 17-yard option. The other score came on a 50-yard punt return by Chip Young, who accounted for 99 yards in punt returns and a 14-yard pass interception. The W&M defense was more alert, causing five fumbles and recovering two of them. However, losing three passes to the enemy and missing a two point conversion on a pass attempt led to the Indian loss.

W&M	33
VMI	28

Jim Cavanaugh and "reserve" quarterback Dan Darragh combined to shatter VMI 33-28 in the 1967 Tobacco Bowl. Darragh completed 11 of 20 passes, accounted for 223 yards total offense, scored twice and passed for once for TDs, and was named SC Back-of-the-Week. Cavanaugh grabbed nine passes for 180 yards, a school and SC mark for game pass yardage. Defense was outstanding, and Chip Young finished with 102 yards in returns.

Tribe's 27-16 Rout of Navy Highlight of '67 Season

Dan Darragh and Adin Brown led the assault on the then number one team in the East as the Indians pulled one of the biggest football upsets not only in their history but in the national season to that time. Shelling the Middies with four explosive touchdowns in the last fifteen minutes of the game, the Indians mauled Navy in their annual Homecoming contest 27-16. The game began on a sour note for the Indians as a fumble in the end zone and a clipping penalty resulted in a safety and a 2-0 Navy lead. That margin stretched out to 16-0 through three quarters of play before the Tribe untracked and went on to record what Coach Marv Levy called his "greatest thrill in coaching ever." Dan Darragh began the barrage with a one yard sneak on the final play of the third quarter. Buck Buchanan recovered a Navy fumble on the W&M 14-yard line and Darragh directed a fantastic 86-yard scoring drive, capping it with an 11-yard TD toss to Jim Cavanaugh. Brown anchored an unyielding Tribe defense that forced a Navy punt, and the Indians soon found the end zone again, this time on a 51-yard bomb to Steve Slotnick. With a narrow 20-16 lead, the Indians immediately regained possession on the following kick-off when Jeff Lund simply beat Navy to the ball, and recovered on the Middle 20. Terry Morton added the final TD to close the scoring. Brown led his defense all over the Navy backfield, blocking a punt, forcing bad passes, and leading vicious tackles. Darragh was again named SC Back-of-the-Week for his splendid performance.

What chances the Tribe had for a SC Title tie ended with a tie—a frustrating 16-16 split with the eventual champ West Virginia. Both teams turned on terrific defenses, with the Indians holding the Mounties to 87 yards rushing and 92 yards passing. But the Tribe could not mount any offensive of its own, gaining 24 yards on the ground and 124 passing. The Indians made several costly mistakes, losing four fumbles, three pass interceptions, and allowing an 85-yard punt return. Both teams missed on conversions and field goals with the Indians getting the last shot—a 33-yard attempt by Bob Gadkowski that faded to the left of the uprights in the closing moments of the final period.

A Conference title that was abandoned early in the season suddenly reappeared as the Indians won their fourth straight game, overpowering Citadel 24-0. Ruining the Bulldogs' Parents Day, the Tribe rolled up 460 yards total offense. Adin Brown keyed a tough defense that intercepted four passes (two by Jimmy Barton) and recovered two fumbles. Jeff Lund accounted for one of the game's best runs—a 61-yarder to set up a fourth period score.

RICHMOND 16

The Indians spoiled three previous Homecomings but could not win their own, losing to a quick Richmond squad 16-7. The offense seemed sluggish the entire game, and the only score was a 72-yard run by Jeff Lund in the first period. Richmond held W&M to seven first downs and 185 total yards, while totalling 17 first downs and 284 yards. The passing game weakened with an early game injury to Jim Cavanaugh, and although the defense recovered a fumble and picked off two passes, the Tribe offense could not muster enough for a win.

Frosh Finish Year 2-2-1

This year's freshman football team faced one of its toughest schedules ever and came through with a fine 2-2-1 record. After losses to the VMI Rats and the Navy Plebes (a 14-13 squeaker), the Papooses tied West Virginia, then defeated Bullis Prep and Richmond in their final games. Quarterback Tom Byrne and end Tom LaFalce were among the outstanding players on offense for the young Indians, and linebacker Bob Herb and back Tom Duffey paced the tough defensive unit. With many seniors leaving this year's varsity, the 1967 frosh will be trying especially hard for starting positions in the spring and fall.

Indians Maintain Superiority; Win State, SC, District

The Indian cross country team finished another outstanding year to continue the tradition of the track program as the best of all William and Mary sports. Competing in what Head Coach Harry Groves called his "toughest dual season ever," the runners finished with a 5-2 dual record, losing only to Eastern powers Navy and Georgetown. In addition, the Indians successfully defended their State and Southern Conference championships, as well as pulling a repeat of last year's win in the NCAA District III meet with a win over Tennessee, one of the best in the South. Terry Donnelly and George Davis led the 1967 squad, and the depth proved sound with Chop Jordan, Juris Luzins, Dick Widell, Larry Armstrong, Larry Bryant, John Derrick, Joe Hopkins, Jim McDuffie, Dick Nangle, Rich Olsen, Eric Smith, and Ted Wood following. Donnelly led the team to a 12th place tie with Penn State in the IC4A meet, placing fourth individually, out of 36 teams. This year's freshmen won four of six meets, with Howell Michael ending his inaugural year of W&M cross country unbeaten in regular competition and a sixth place finish in the IC4A Frosh race.

Soccer, still trying to attain a more prominent status, played in another inaugural-type season, this one the first with a regular coach drawn from the athletic department. The new freshmen-eligibility rule adopted by the Southern Conference in minor sports was of great benefit to the Indian soccer team, which finished with a respectable 3-6 record. All three wins came at the expense of Southern Conference opponents, and the Indians were in the playoffs of the Northern Division at the end of the season. Coach Joe Agee's squad was led by high-scoring freshman Bob Jendron and goalie Dave Fabian. Captain of the team was senior Keith Bricklemeyer, a three-year veteran. Only he and fullback Dale Mueller will be lost from next year's squad. Other outstanding players included Mark Taylor, Steve Wilson, John Dodds, Bruce Niles, Bill Grigsby, Pete Schleif, and John Burleigh.

The inability to win on the road proved disastrous to the basketball Indians, as they finished with a 6-17 record. Bob Sherwood was the star this year, becoming the highest scoring sophomore in W&M history with a Conference-leading 22.7 points per game average. He was named to the first team of both the Conference and State squads. Other double figure scorers were seniors Ron Panneton (Captain) and Jim Rama. The year was marked by the first appearance of an Indian quintet on television, as their home game with the Citadel was part of the inaugural season for SC games on TV. Wins this season came at the expense of George Washington, VMI, Pittsburgh, Loyola of New Orleans, Richmond (a 98-92 overtime thriller), and Furman. Coach Warren Mitchell loses four seniors off the squad, but will have some fine sophomores back for starting spots next year.

Indoor Track Repeats As State, SC Champ

The indoor track team continued to dominate State and Conference competition, winning both championships by one-sided margins. Although running in only one tri-meet, the depth-rich Indians took two unofficial team championships—the VMI Relays and the Delaware Invitational. Strength in relays was the key to the VMI showing, with wins in the distance medley, 440, 880, and sprint medley relays, second in the mile relay, and third in the shuttle hurdle and four-mile relays. At Delaware the Tribe won nearly everything, taking eight of 14 events. In the State Meet the Indians piled up 80 points to 43 for runner-up VPI, and in the Conference Meet, W&M amassed 94½ points to 33 for second-place VMI. Top performances included Terry Donnelly's 4:07.9 mile, Bruce Dallas' 6-9 high jump, Marshall Stone's 15-10½ pole vault, Doug Griffith's 6.8 low and 7.4 high hurdles, Bill Findler's 35.6 and 50.4 in the 330 and 440.

Women Undefeated; Take State Crown

The women concluded their fourth straight unbeaten season this year, winning six dual meets, one tri-meet, and the Virginia Intercollegiate Meet. Becki McColpin and Suzanne Bolton, who started the team in 1965, finished their varsity careers in fine style, with Becki unbeaten in her events. Other stars included diver Linda Freeman, and swimmers Gail Littlefield, Janice Savage, Alice Harden, Linda Bierbower, and Carol Brunson.

Better Depth Gives Third in SC Race

Strengthened by the addition of last year's unbeaten freshmen, the Indians recorded a 6-4 dual mark this year and a third place finish in the Conference meet. Wins came over VMI (for the first time in thirty years), Citadel, Old Dominion, Georgetown, Davidson, and Clemson. George Collins was one of the outstanding swimmers, specializing in distance free styles and relays. Co-captain Keith Maurer anchored many of the winning relays, as well as swimming in the individual medley. The freshmen ended with an 8-2 record, defeating Kecoughtan, VMI, Old Dominion, Granby, West Virginia, Hampton, Maury, and James Blair. Dave Dutrow, Jay McTighe, and Rick Reisser were among the outstanding freshmen.

Intramurals

Sigma Phi Epsilon took a commanding lead early in men's intramural play and had nearly a 2-1 advantage in total points by early spring, while Gamma Phi Beta was the early leader in women's intramural competition. Sig Ep won four early team titles—football, swimming, wrestling, and bowling, and Ben Womble and Phil Franklin took the lead in individual point totals. PiKA won the volleyball title. Twelve teams competed this year in fraternity league competition, with the addition of Sigma Chi, and nearly 20 teams competed in the Independent and Dorm Leagues. Gamma Phi won the women's swimming and volleyball in early team competition, while teams from Ludwell and Jefferson were among the top dorm squads. Ludwell's Charlotte Atwater won the women's tennis title.

Keys to 1968 Season

Twelve pitchers and a new infield held the key to this year's baseball fortunes for Les Hooker, as he coached his third team in a 33-game schedule. Frosh hopefuls made competition for the 24-man roster much keener, and many sophs gave Hooker good bench strength late in the season. Four seniors were on the squad—1st baseman Jim Rama, outfielder John Medlin, and pitching aces Jay Newton and John King. Top juniors included pitcher Jim Purtill, shortstop Jack Driscoll; and third baseman Kevin Davenport. Richy Richardson was the top starting freshman, playing center field all season. Outstanding sophs included pitchers Allen Wohlleben, Eddie Allen, Jim Worthington, and Jim Supplee, third baseman Bruce Cook, and second basemen Roger Keagy and Rick Allen. Other top frosh were Bruce Niles, Dave Lineweaver, Paul King, and Mark Wilson.

Track Team Defends Spring Championships

Strong favorites to retain both their State and Conference outdoor crowns, the Indians returned many outstanding vets and several top frosh in one of their toughest outdoor seasons. Terry Donnelly, fourth place in the NCAA indoor mile, and Fred Anspach, one of the SC's top sprinters, were co-captains. Other top performers included weightmen John Todd and Bob Davis, pole vaulters Marshall Stone and Dan Hennenberg, half-miler Juris Luzins (in the NCAA indoor half), hurdlers Dee Craig, Doug Griffith, Mark Decot, and Dave Watson, sprinters Mike Fratkin, Bill Findler, Tom Griffin, and Phil Dillard, jumpers Bruce Dallas, Jim Jancaitis, Rich Conway, Scott McLennan, and Bud Tamea, and distance men George Davis, Howell Michael, and Chop Jordan.

Fencing Renewed for Men and Women in '68

Interest was revived in both men's and women's fencing this year, after a lapse of many years in men's competition and a two-year lapse in women's competition. The men were under the direction of Dean John Willis and the Rev. Joseph Trimble, both outstanding fencers in college, while the women were under Marion Reeder. The men had scheduled matches tentatively for late spring, and the women went undefeated in the matches they played.

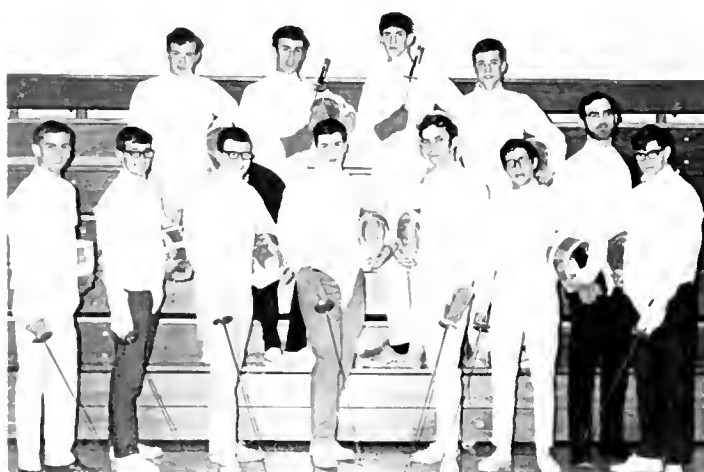

Top men were Doug Green, Roger Lee, Serge Gregory, Ken Middaugh, and Hugh Babington-Smith, while Judy Krone and Mary Morden were among the best of the women.

The William and Mary rifle squad ended a good year with a 5-4 record, and optimism is evident for continued success in the future, with all top shooters returning. Although faltering in the Conference Meet, the W&M team finished sixth of ten in the Sectional championships, with juniors Bill Morris and Jack McPherson scoring 280's (out of 300) in the meet. Morris was top man on the squad, and other outstanding shooters included Tom Routh, Ray Hill, and Bob Pollard.

This book is the product of many hours of generously volunteered work by the Staff and extra special care by our publishers. The Staff has undertaken this task of producing a yearbook with a cheerfulness and dedication that is seldom credited to our generation. Their efforts are largely unsung until the day that the book arrives, yet their work comprises the only permanent record of this year and will remain a tribute to their efforts. Throughout the year the Staff has been aided by numerous interested individuals. Dean Lambert's unflagging interest has been most appreciated, as were the IBM lists used by the Business and Indexing Staffs that were provided by Mr. Dudley M. Jensen. Mr. Thomas L. Williams took the formal shots for the finalists in the Miss William and Mary Contest, two of the color transparencies, and spent considerable time taking fraternity and sorority pledge pictures as well as most of the organizations group shots. This continuing co-operation has been much appreciated. Mr. Paul Sears of Inter-Collegiate Press, Inc., beautifully executed our cover and end-sheet designs as well as doing artwork for the Greek pages. Mr. Jim Garrett kept track of our material at the plant and generously spent time checking the status of various pages for us. ICP's Richmond representative, Mr. Terry Gilson, is to be commended for his diligent attention to our yearbook needs and his personal efforts on our behalf in providing the vital link between the school and the plant. Seventeen of the nineteen color pictures were taken by Mr. Robert E. Gatten, Jr., whose patience with the Editor's numerous requests for impossible pictures has been remarkable and whose unending willingness to carry, lift, pick up, drop off, advise, and generally offer moral support to the Editor, and the entire staff has helped the book to become a reality. To all of those who have had a part in the production of the 1968 Colonial Echo I would like to express my appreciation not only for their hard and efficient work but also for their loyalty and the generous gift of their "spare time." It has been a pleasure to work with all of them.

Florence Fraser, Editor

Comments

The 1968 Colonial Echo was printed by Inter-Collegiate Press, Inc., located in Shawnee, Missouri, Kansas, on 80 pound Electro Offset Enamel. Sixony Finish using Century Schoolbook type with the company in-line type. Over 5000 black and white photographs as well as 19 color photos are to be found in the 432 page by twelve inch pages. The book is bound in 160 point 5-ply white, cream, lined and checked, and smooth cover. The artwork on the cover is a medallion design on a three dimensional die with embossing, and gold top stamping on the spine and front. A 10000 dimensional hand embossing is used on the back. The color is a dark brick red. Below are the production credits.
